WAM EXCHANGE: a mentoring day by

Are you a student, young professional or career changer in the field of culture and media? Are you looking for someone to exchange with in a safe space? Are you about to make a professional decision that you would like to reflect on? Would you like to network with experienced personalities from culture and media? Be part of the WAM EXCHANGE mentoring day!

In October 2022, the newly founded nonprofit organization Women in Arts and Media launches its first mentoring day with WAM EXCHANGE.

WAM is a network across disciplines and sectors that advocates for gender equality in culture and media. Our special concern is the empowerment of women - in their diversity - in leadership positions and on their way there.

WAM EXCHANGE offers you

- the opportunity to expand your network in the field of culture and media
- a 1:1 mentoring session to support you in a professional matter
- impulses for your personal and professional development through discussions within the group of mentors and mentees
- a visit to various cultural institutions and an exchange with the respective management.

The mentors are members of the association Women in Arts and Media and work in responsible positions in various areas of culture and media.
